

Loughborough hairdresser joins celeb team

A leading stylist from Sister Bliss, on Old Ashby Road in Loughborough has been chosen as one of a handful of young rising stars, to be part of an international hairdressing team.

Stefanie Wall won her place on the Racoon International Artistic Team after impressing celebrity hairdressers, Guy Kremer and Richard Ward, in front of an audience of thousands of people at the hairdressing industry's top international event staged in London.

As part of the elite Racoon International Artistic Team Stefanie will be working with celebrity hairdressers on hair fashion photo shoots, live stage shows and seminars, and helping to create new looks for Racoon International's style collections.

Racoon International hair extensions are the celebrity's favourite choice and were behind the new-look Sharon Osbourne bob. Other celebrity fans include Kelly Osbourne, Denise Van Outen, Jenny Frost, Jade Jagger and Emmerdale's bad girl and Strictly Come Dancing diva Claire King.

Stefanie was just one of four hairdressers chosen through a rigorous selection process which tested their creativity and technical expertise. She has been hairdressing for just four years, making her achievement even more remarkable. She said: “I was very nervous about having my models on a huge catwalk in front of so many people, and being judged by famous hairdressers. But I just wanted to get across how much I love working with extensions . It was such a busy day – and well worth it. I now can’t wait to do more extensions as part of the art team.

“I get so inspired by doing extensions. It is great to add colour, create fringes, make a new style say, if you are growing out a bob, or just wanting a daring hairstyle. The Racoon extensions look natural and can be styled just like ordinary hair.”

Stefanie is at Sister Bliss, Old Ashby Road, Loughborough. Telephone 01509 235350.
